GREAT DEMONSTRATION TO-DAY.

Letters from Generals Sherman, Howard and Curtis.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, October 1, 1868.

The city is quite crowded with delegates to the Soldiers Convention and visitors. The various delegations on arriving have been escorted to quarters. This noon several thousand assembled in Independence Square, where they were welcomed by Mayor McMichael. It is thought to-morrow will be generally observed as a holiday. An immense crowd attended the reception in the Square.

WELCOME BY MAYOR M'MICHAEL.

Mayor McMichael welcomed the soldiers in the name of the loyal people of Philadelphia. After referirng to the aspersions cast upon them as soldiers, the Mayor [illegible] said: "As I gaze on this vast assemblage, composed as it is of men who stormed Donelson and scaled Lookout, and [illegible] the thick jungles of the Wilderness—men who marched with Sherman and rode with Sheridan, and bled with Sickles, and conquered with Meade—men who sailed with Dupont, Farragut, Porter and Worden—who, along the windings of Western rivers and amid the rocky cliffs and wooded ravines of central mountains, and among the swampy hollows of Southern plains, performed prodigies of daring and bore with fortitude and patience the pangs of hunger and ravages of fever—I know that you bring with you the prestige of victory, and I am confident that as good and true men of all pursuits, occupations and classes participate in your feelings and will join in your action, before the Ides of November your great commander will be chosen President, and when that thrice fortunate result shall have been attained, the peace for which you have struggled, and the country yearns, will be followed by harmony and prosperity in all sections of the land—peace that will bind up the wounds and assuage the griefs of distracted communities—peace that will secure to all who dwell upon the soil, of all climes, castes, creeds and complexions absolute equality before the law—and this mighty empire compacted and perfected and knit together by indissoluble bonds, and stronger, and wiser, and better for the troubles through which it has passed, will start afresh on its magnificent career, and under the leadership of the hero and statesman, whose tried courage and approved judgment pre-eminently qualify him for the post, will press forward toward to that foremost place among the powers of the earth, to which by its magnitude, its strength, its wealth, its intelligence, its resources, it is fairly entitled.

Again, soldiers and sailors, brave defenders and protectors of the flag, that in your hands often torn has never been tarnished, again and again I bid you welcome."

RESPONSE OF GEN. BARNUM.

General H. A. Barnum, of the National Committee, responded, saying: For the hundred thousand veterans of the war whom you welcomed to your far-famed city, I thank you. For your kindly greeting the name of your noble city is cherished by every boy in blue who survives the war and your people enshrined in their hearts. The loyal bands who hurried to the defense of the capital when treason first flashed its lurid light across the southern sky, drank at your fountains, ate at your tables, and received your heartfelt God speed, and the last bronzed veteran of the war returning to the home he had preserved, partook of your boundless hospitality.

We stand to-day in a sacred presence. Here were born our liberties, and the clangor of yonder bell, proclaiming the liberty of America, blends in our memories with the echo of the guns of Gettysburg maintaining that liberty. It is fitting that to-day we should gather here and join with you in the high resolve that the battle-born and battle-saved liberty of our country shall be passed to our children unimpaired! Aye, more than this. Let us realize that we are a privileged generation. To us has been given the opportunity to perfect the liberty our fathers exhibited. Already by the grand victories of our armies we have reestablished the absolute safety of our government from armed attack, whether from within or without. It remains for us to so entrench the abilities of our country by rightness and just constitutions and laws, that equal and complete freedom, justice and civil rights shall prevail throughout the land.

If I know the temper of our grand old army, if I read aright your presence here, my comrades, you will never cease your efforts until the absolute freedom which you enjoy here in Philadelphia is secured to every good citizen of the republic, in every hamlet of the land, be he millionare or common laborer, educated or iguorant, white or black.

He then referred to the political conflict and said: We have seen the Waterloo of armed rebellion. We have yet to see the St. Helena of the spirit of treason, and who doubts that we who sang while war waged the battle hymn, "mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord," shall see on November's day the death of the spirit of treason in the overwhelming defeat and utter rout of our political foe! Gird on your armor, then, my comrades. To the fight! Close up your ranks! The spirits of your three hundred thousand slain and maimed comrades look approvingly down upon you, and as you now again feel the magic elbow-touch, remember the invocation of our martyr President, spoken on Gettysburg's field, "we here rightly resolve that these honored dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and the government of the people shall not perish from the earth."

Generals Burnside and Kilpatrick and Governor Curtin made short speeches when the assemblage dispersed.

INDEPENDENCE SQUARE IN THE EVENING.

There was an immense gathering in Independence Square this evening of soldiers and sailors. Gen. Burnside presided. The Square was finely illuminated and the spectacle was grand and imposing.

An address was made by Gen. Barnum, who congratulated the soldiers upon their success in war and urged them to achieve further successes in the coming elections, closing as follows: We call upon every citizen who wore the Union blue, whether on land or sea, to cast his vote in the coming election for the Union State tickets and for Grant and Colfax, and further, to mark alike the sincerity and efficiency of our solemn declaration, we invoke our late comrades-in-arms to set apart the election day as a period of unremitting exertion and unceasing vigilance, and we hereby formally announce that on the 13th day of October, in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Nebraska, there shall be observed among our comrades a general holiday, and we call upon all employers, manufacturers and business men generally, to relieve their workmen on that day who have served in the Union army, and thus assist in completing this patriotic purpose. The victory on the 13th of October will be Sheridan's victory of Five Forks, marshaling the way to Grant's transcendent triumph on the Appamattox in November.

General Kilpatrick was called upon for a speech, and in the course of his remarks said: All of you remember those proud and happy days when the heroes of Georgia and the Carolinas had joined the Boys in Blue around Grant below the Potomac, and with colors flying and drumss beating, all came marching home across the hills and the valleys of Virginia, keeping step to the sweet music of the Union, and we thought when marching down Pennsylvania avenue, down before the future residence of Ulysses S. Grant, (Cheers) where we had received the greetings of ten thousand of our fellow citizens and had returned to our homes, that war had closed. But we were mistaken! The same foe, with the same leaders, North and South, is now arrayed against us. And the question now arises, will you, fellow-citizens, have Horatio Seymour or General Grant for your next President? (Cries for Grant.) Will you have the stars taken from off the shoulders of the great Sherman and placed on the traitor Lee? (No! no!) Will you have that man, Hyena Forrest, take the place of the dashing and gallant little Phil. Sheridan? (No! no!) No! my fellow-citizens! We have met here to-day to take into consideration how this great evil may be prevented. We have a duty to perform as great as that for which we fought during the war. We must place men in power whom we know will be true to those great principles for which we fought and crushed the rebellion. Not only that, but they must be also true to the interest of the widows and orphans of our comrades who have gone and whose spirits in heaven look down with approbation on the acts of their comrades who are assembled here to-day.

Can I, can you, fellow-soldiers, can you, Gen. Burnside, stand timidly and cowardly by and see the Union and liberty destroyed forever? We are to-day—[voice in the crowd, "Let us charge them!"] I wish to God we could make a charge. I just wish Robert E. Lee, Horatio Seymour, and that great scoundrel and traitor, Frank P. Blair, were here to-day in this crowd. We would put liberty and Union in the balance against them and treason.

Gov. Curtin was called for. He said: I will not speak to you, my fellow-citizens, because this is a soldiers' meeting. I was not a soldier.

During the evening a large number of speeches were made from the different stands. The meeting adjourned at an early hour to proceed to the Union League House, where a serenade was given and several addresses made.

The throng of strangers dispersed to their quarters to be ready for the procession to-morrow morning, and parade at night. Chestnut street was thronged throughout the evening. A number of arrests were made of persons engaged in exciting a disturbance in the neighborhood of the square.

LETTERS FROM GEN. SHERMAN, GEN. HOWARD AND GEN. CURTIS.

Letters are published here to-day from Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Howard Sigel, Cox, and others, endorsing Grant and Colfax.

The following are the letters from Generals Sherman, Howard, and George Wm. Curtis:

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY DIVISION OF THE MISSOURI,
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10, 1868.

Gen. H. A. Barnum, Washington, D. C.:

DEAR GENERAL: I have just received your letter of September 8th, inviting me to attend a Mass Convention of the war veterans at Philadelphia, on the 1st and 2d of October next, in the interests of the Republican party in the present canvass.

It will be impossible for me to do so for many reasons, and I know no one to whom I can better impart them than to you.

First—I have too much to do in my proper legitimate business, which keeps me west of the Mississippi.

Second—I am required by a summons to attend a called meeting of the Indian Peace Commission at Chicago on the 7th of October.

No one, I trust, doubts my respect for, and absolute confidence in, Gen. Grant, at least he himself does not; and I extract for your information from a letter of the General's, dated Washington, June 21st, 1868;

"DEAR SHERMAN—Your kind letter written from New Mexico is received. You understand my position exactly. * * * * * * I feel very grateful to the officers of our army, whose military achievements made my reputation as well as their own, to know that they support me in this new field. I do not expect or want active support, but merely the satisfaction of knowing what your letter assured me of on your part. Officers who expect to make the army their home for life have to serve under successive administrations, and should not make themselves obnoxious to any party likely ever to come into power.

* * * * * * * *

This covers the whole ground, and will, I feel assured, prove perfectly satisfactory to you. With great respect your friend,

W. T. SHERMAN, Lieut. Gen.

WAR DEPARTMENT, BUREAU OF REFUGEES, FREEDMEN AND ABANDONED LANDS,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24th, 1868.

Gen. H. A. Barnum, New York City—

MY DEAR SIR: I have received your invitation to be present at a Convention of Soldiers and Sailors to be held in Philadelphia on the 1st and 2d of October next. I have just returned from an inspection tour through the Southern States, and duties press me so hard at my office that I fear I will not be able to comply with your request.

I am glad that the Convention is to be held. I never can understand how men who were during the war willing to present their bodies as a living sacrifice for the preservation of our institutions, can possibly have their hearts wrong even before the hour of triumph has passed away. I am rejoiced that so many agree with me, and I shall have no fears for the future of our country if the men who fought will exert every energy to preserve a proper public sentiment, and will give all their influence and their votes to the cause of liberty and justice.

Let him who led us to the completeness of victory during the war, lead us on safely to a complete triumph in peace. Such, I believe to be the earnest hope of every true-hearted Union man, black and white, throughout the land.

Faithfully yours,
O. O. HOWARD, Major Gen.

ORHFIELD, MASS., Sept. 20, 1868.

Gen. H. A. Barnum, Chairman;

MY DEAR SIR: I thank you sincerely for your cordial invitation to speak at the Soldiers' Convention in Philadelphia, but my engagements will prevent its acceptance.

All faithful citizens had hoped that the loyal reconstruction of the Union would have proceeded steadily, and without serious disturbance. But the declared purpose of the late rebel leaders to regain the lost cause at the ballot-box with the aid of the Democratic party, has occasioned once more an uprising of the people to secure by their votes the fruits of the victory they won by their arms.

And, what to-day are all loyal men but a vast host of Boys in Blue, who are moving triumphantly from Vermont to Maine, from Maine to Ohio and Indiana and Iowa and Pennsylvania, as in the war they marched from Fort Donaldson to Vicksburg, from Vicksburg to Chattanooga, from Chattanooga to the Sea and the Wilderness, and from the Wilderness to the Appomattox apple tree?

They fought for peace then, and they vote for peace now. And the good cause demands as overwhelming a victory. "Gentlemen," said General Sedgwick on a memorable day to his Boys in Blue—"this is an occasion on which every regiment must do the duty of a brigade." Yours Truly,

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

ATTACK ON THE CARS.

The members of the Washington delegation state that when about ten miles north of Baltimore a party of men entered the car where they were singing Grant campaign songs and made an attack on a colored man who cheered for Grant. The Boys in Blue resisted the attack, when they were in turn assaulted and several injured, but they finally succeeded in driving the roughs out of the car, when one of the latter fell between the cars and was probably killed.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, October 1, 1868.

The following Collectors of Internal Revenue were appointed to-day: Andrew J. Simmonds, Montana, vice Langford, resigned; Albert G. Ryan, First Arkansas District.

The following changes in stations of officers of the Ordnance Department have been made: Capt. S. C. Syford, from St. Louis Arsenal to Charleston Arsenal, South Carolina; Capt. F. H. Parker, from Charleston Arsenal to Rock Island, Ill.; Capt. Morris Schaff, from Watertown, Mass., to Rock Island; First Lieutenant W. L. Holland, from Fort Monroe to Rock Island.

The Secretary of the Treasury to-day appointed Daniel S. Goodloe Supervisor of Internal Revenue for the district of Kentucky. The Secretary says it is not true that Mr. Lewis has been appointed Supervisor for the district of New York.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 1, 1868.

General McClellan to-day declined the invitation of the City Government of Brooklyn, to visit that city at present.

About eleven hundred delegates to the Soldiers' Convention in Philadelphia, left here this morning.

In the revenue conspiracy case to-day, Collector Wood, Postmaster Lincoln, Senator Pierson, of Brooklyn, and several others gave testimony damaging to the character of McHenry, one of the prosecution witnesses, and Mr. Lord testified that he never walked in the street with Mr. Rollins in Washington, nor ever paid him any money, as was testified by McHenry.

A woman named Mary Gill, in Stewart's store to-day, upon meeting the wife of Gen. Spinola, publicly spit upon the latter, and stated to other lady purchasers that Mrs. Spinola was a deserted wife, and that her husband was now stopping with her (the Gill woman) whereupon Mrs. Spinola broke her parasol over Gill's head. The latter had Mrs. Spinola arrested, and she was held to bail for assault.

Nothing was done by the Chamber of Commerce to-day for the relief of the sufferers in South America.

Gen. Kirby Smith was among the passengers for California by the steamer Rising Star to-day.

Bishop Potter made the annual address to-day at the Episcopal Convention. It was non-committal on Ritualism.

Olney's gas fixture factory and Ranche's shoe store, on Courtland street, were burned this morning. Loss about $20,000.

Canadian Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

QUEBEC, Oct. 1.—The Legislature will assemble about the first of December.

The Quebec papers are loud in denouncing the closing of the Grand Trunk Railroad, east of Richmond, Canada. It is reported that C. J. Bridges will be superceded as manager of the Grand Trunk Railroad on his appointment to a Commissionership on inter-colonial railways.

OTTAWA, October 1.—Lord Monck has received a dispatch from the Colonial Secretary expressing satisfaction that the Canadian Government have selected the Major Robinson route for the inter-Colonial road, as in a military and commercial point of view, it is the only one which provides for the national objects involved in the undertaking.

Boston Items.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, October 1.—Rev. Thomas Hill has resigned the Presidency of Harvard College, and his resignation has been accepted.

The Judges in the United States Circuit Court have overruled the motion to quash the indictment against James D. Martin, late Cashier of the Hide & Leather Bank, and his trial on a charge of defrauding the Bank will commence the present week.

A Missing Schooner.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OSWEGO, Oct. 1.—The schooner Pershing, from Chicago, to this port with wheat, collided with the schooner E. B. Allen, some fifteen days ago, on Lake Huron, and as nothing has been heard of the former vessel since it is feared she is lost with all on board. There was a heavy gale east of this place last night.

Revolution in Spain Successful—Gen. Prim in Madrid—Movements of the Queen and Her Court, and the Flight to France—An Apostolic Order from the Pope.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SPAIN.

LONDON, October 1.—The success of the revoultionary movement in Spain, ending as it has in the expulsion of Queen Isabella, gives rise to much speculation as to the probable successor of the Spanish throne. It is generally believed that the known dislike of Napoleon to the Orleans family is fatal to the hopes of the Montpensiers, and that a Carlist will be chosen to rule over Spain is regarded as impossible. The ancient rights of the house of Savoy to the throne of Spain are beginning to be discussed, and the Duke of Aosta, the second son of King Victor Emanuel, is talked of as an available candidate.

PARIS, October 1.—The La France today discusses the prospects of Spain, and predicts the present revolution there will be followed by a violent civil war.

The Moniteur gives the following account of the late movements of the Spanish court: The Queen of Spain and members of the royal family who were with her at San Sebastian, crossed the frontier on the 30th ult. They immedaitely proceeded to Biarritz, where the Queen had an interview with Napoleon and the Empress Eugenie. After a brief delay the Queen and family left Biarritz for the Castle of Pan, which has been assigned to her most Catholic Majesty as a residence during her sojourn in France.

MADRID, October 1.—General Prim and Marshal Serrano have arrived. The citizens are arming themselves and have occupied guard houses and the various military posts within and around the city. The city of Barcelona has joined the revolution. The Count of Cheste has fled from Spain. The foreign residents are sending deputations to the Provincial Junta now in session to congratulate them on the success of the patriotic movement.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—It is reported that Manuel Concha and Count of Cheste have left Spain for France.

ITALY.

ROME, Oct. 1.—Pope Pius Ninth has issued an apostolic letter, addressed to all non-Catholic religious bodies, announcing the forthcoming Oecumenical Council and urging them to seize the occasion thus offered them of rejoining the church.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON, October 1.—Evening.—Consols, 93¼. Bullion in the Bank has increased £36,000. Five-Twenties, 73⅝; Erie, 31¾; Illinois, 96.

LIVERPOOL, October 1.—Cotton firmer; sales of 15,000 bales Middling Uplands at 10¼d. Breadstuffs market heavy. Provisions—Beef and Pork quiet. Lard dull at 72s. Bacon, 57s. Turpentine declining.

NEW ORLEANS.

Police Commissioners—Louisiana Legislature.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW ORLEANS, October 1.—The new Board of Police Commissioners, under the Metropolitan police bill, composed of two negroes and three whites, commenced their duties to-day. One Lieutenant and a number of the oldest members of the force have resigned.

In the House yesterday two more whites from the Parish of Baton Rouge were unseated and replaced by two negroes. The majority report of the Election Committee in this case states that the white men whose seats are contested were elected by 758 majority and the charges upon which the seats are contested were disproved. The report recommends that the whites be confirmed. The minority report, which is signed by two negroes, unseating the whites and seating the blacks, was adopted by 37 to 17.

Georgia Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ATLANTA, Ga., October 1.—In the House to-day the bill to prevent free persons of color from being elected to office was lost.

The bill to compel common carriers to provide equal accommodations for whites and blacks was lost.

The act to prescribe an oath to be administered to voters for the election of President of the United States, Governor and other officers of this State was passed.

Mr. Bryant, Republican, is charged with holding office under the United States, thereby disqualifying him from holding a seat in the House, and a resolution was passed appointing a committee of five to investigate the matter.

Louisiana Democracy.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, October 1.—The State Democratic Convention convened yesterday and organized with a full attendance. To-day resolutions were adopted declaring that while they protest against all test-oath qualifications, except for crimes, they recognize the necessity of conforming to existing laws, and that this Convention will entertain the name of no person as a candidate for election who cannot qualify under laws, and recommend Congressional Conventions to adopt the same rule. Five members of the electoral ticket, who were ineligible, resigned and some of the vacancies filled with eligible men.

Gen. McClellan Will Not Take the Stump.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 1.—At the interview of the Brooklyn Committee to tender a reception to Gen. McClellan to-day, he stated that although he had agreed to accept receptions in New York and Philadelphia, he did not propose to actively engage in the pending political canvass.

Jail Delivery.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., October 1.—There was a general jail delivery at Kingston jail Tuesday night. Ten prisoners escaped, including Dan. Casey, the burglar, who robbed the American Express at the above place. Particulars not yet at hand.

NATURALIZATION FRAUDS.

Fraudulent Certificates Found on a Prisoner—A Wholesale "Voucher" Arrested—Assailants of Boys in Blue Arrested.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, October 1.—John Devine, arrested by the police last night for snapping a pistol as a Republican procession was passing in the street, had on his person twelve certificates of naturalization signed by Prothonatory Snowden, with the seal of the court on them, but a blank left for names. He was committed.

Joseph A. Watson, who was voucher on nearly one hundred naturalization papers, has been arrested.

Six men were arrested to-day for attempting to get assessed in wards where they do not live, with the intention of duplicating their votes.

The excitement in relation to naturalization is increasing. From an examination of the records in Court it appears that some thousands of papers have been issued in which the residences of the persons vouching for applicants were in no instance taken down, so that the record of the Court is useless in any attempt to prosecute the voucher for perjury in cases of fraud.

Fifteen roughs from Baltimore have been arrested for assaulting the Boys in Blue on the cars.

NEW CASTLE, PA.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW CASTLE, Sept. 30, 1868.

The sound of a dram last night announced a meeting at White Hall, at which Messrs. R. B. Carnahan and Thos. J. Bigham of your city were to speak. Said hall was comfortably filled by enthusiastic admirers of Grant and Colfax, and quite a number of the opposition, to hear these well-known and eloquent orators. The programme was commenced with the beautiful "Star Spangled Banner," sung by the really excellent Grant and Colfax Glee Club of this place.

Mr. Carnahan was the first speaker. He interested the assembly with quite a lengthy speech on the great issues which have been most prominently brought before the people.

It was quite late when Bigham "opened on 'em," but he managed to create a deal of merriment—which he can do, especially when the returns are coming in—besides a profound attention to the many able remarks made in the short time he was enabled to keep the stand. Both gentlemen were somewhat wearied with the traveling done during the day to Wirtemburg, in this county, and to other points. The meeting was kept up as it was till a late hour. Col. Dan. Leasure announced another meeting on Tuesday next. Lawrence is good for two thousand for the Republican candidates in November.

The Blair and Seymourites are preparing to make an immense display on the 2d inst. They generally turn out strong here.

Political Excitement at Scranton, Pa—Fernando Wood and Senator Cragin.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SCRANTON, Pa., October 1.—Hon. Fernado Wood, who yesterday spoke at Waverly, Pa., and Senator Cragin, both put up at the Wyoming House here last night, where Senator Cargin was serenaded by the Tanners, and spoke at some length spiritedly, defending New England from an attack made by Mr. Wood here Tuesday night last, when he is alleged to have said the two greatest curses God had visited on earth, were the fall of Adam and the landing of the Pilgrim fathers at Plymouth Rock. The Democrats subsequently serenaded Mr. Wood, who made an elaborate rejoinder to Senator Cragin's remarks. Both speakers were frequently interrupted and considerable excitement was created.

New York State Fair.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ROCHESTER, October 1.—The attendance at the fair grounds to day was very large. At two o'clock this afternoon there were at least forty thousand people on the grounds. Fifty thousand strangers are in the city, and the Domestic Hall had to be closed so great was the rush and destruction of property therein. Several persons were injured in the crush. The receipts to-day were $12,000. Weather cool.

New Orleans Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, October 1.—Cotton active and firm; Middlings, 23½c; sales 3,160 bales; receipts, 3,031 bales; exports, foreign, 4,288 bales. Sterling Exchange, 148¼a151. Sugar; Nos. 12 and 13, 12a12½c. Molasses dull. Flour dull; superfine, $6,25a6,75. Corn firm at 95a$1.00. Oats scarce and higher at 60a63c. Bran is scarce at $1,20. Hay, $23a24.50. Pork quiet and firm at $30.50. Bacon dull; shoulders, 12½c; clear sides, 16½c. Lard dull and unchanged.

Chicago Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, October 1.—Evening.—Wheat to-night was firm, with sales of No. 2 at $1,38½. Corn is unsettled and dull, with sales of 5,000 bushels at 88c for the first half of October. Oats is quiet at 51c.

A NEST OF COUNTERFEITERS EXPOSED.

Thousands of Spurious "Greenbacks" Circulated by the Gang—The Holders Promised that Seymour Shall Redeem Them—Treasurer Spinner's Exposure of the Fraud.

General Spinner, Treasurer of the United States, received a letter a day or two ago, from a Mr. Gibson, dated at Hollidaysburg, Pa., enclosing a counterfeit one dollar "greenback." The writer described it as one of several thousand that have been manufactured by the Democratic Committee of his town, (and of this city he might have added,) and which they had circulated as "a campaign document" among the poor and ignorant. The counterfeit is a fac simile of the original, with the following exceptions: Seymour's face is substituted for that of Mr. Chase; on the face of the note instead of the words "payable to bearer," are the words "payable to the bondholders," and on the back the words payable also for the principal and interest of five-twenty bonds, are added. The writer says that many of these notes are passed as genuine. He asks Gen. Spinner whether there is any remedy, and the General replies as follows:

TREASURY OF THE UNITED STATES,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23, 1868.

Sir—Your letter, with the enclosure as therein stated, of the 21st instant has been received. There can be no doubt that the issuing or passing of the paper which purports to be a one dollar legal tender note of the United States, that came enclosed in your letter, is in clear violation of the tenth and eleventh sections of the act of June 30, 1864. This law declares it to be FELONY to make, issue, sell, utter, publish or pass any note in "the likeness or similitude" of any security of the United States. And on conviction thereof the party so offending may be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment at hard labor not exceeding fifteen years, or by both, in the discretion of the Court. This paper seems clearly to be of the kind that the law was intended to interdict, and it seems to be equally clear that any person who has done anything in the way of putting it into circulation is equally subject to the pains and penalties denounced by the statute. The law of February 5, 1867, section 2, enacts, "That it shall not be lawful to engrave, utter, issue, distribute, circulate, or use any business or professional card, notice, placard, circular, handbill or advertisement, in the likenees or similitude of any bond, certificate of indebtedness, certificate of deposit, coupon, United States note, fractional note, postage stamp note or other obligation or security of the United States." "And any person or persons, offending against the provisions of this section, shall be subject to a penalty of $100, to be recovered by an action of debt, one-half to the use of the informer." Now, if there is any doubt about the application of the act of June 30, 1864, there certainly can be none as to the application of the act of February 5, 1867, last quoted, to the case under consideration. Here now is a chance for all who desire to do the country a good service and benefit themselves as well at the same time. Vigorous action under this law will rid the land of this abominable nuisance at once, effectually and forever. You say that "these spurious notes are being circulated by the thousands throughout the county, by the Democratic party for electioneering purposes, but, that it is really passing as currency. That hundreds of dollars of it is passed daily upon the ignorant classes at the represented value upon the face." Like information comes to us from all parts of the country, and I am told that the same kind of paper is being largely circulated among the colored people of the South. That the freedmen are being told to hold to it, and to vote for Seymour, that if they succeed in electing him these Democratic money issues, that bear his effigy will be worth as much as the Federal Government's greenbacks. But these black men are nearly all Republicans, and have learned to read; it is, therefore, doubtful whether they will be taken in as readily as their more guillible opponents. Large handbills full of scurrilous falsities have been sent me, on which this same counterfeit note appears. This, like the other, is in violation of law. The Democratic party has been presented by the grand inquest of the nation, as being guilty of other high crimes and misdemeanors, and is now in the criminal dock in the great court of the whole people to answer to the charges. There is little doubt what the verdict will be when it is rendered and recorded on the 3d of November next.

Perhaps the lesser crime of forgery is merged in the greater ones, for which it is now on trial. But as this paper is a fraud, both politically and pecuniarily, so bold that one can scarcely see how any Republican can be deceived by it, it is perhaps hardly worth the while for us to protect the guilty ones from cheating each other with it. If we go to this business, we shall have our hands full of work that would never be finished. This is one of the least of the cheats and frauds which that effete party have put upon its followers. And then it is barely possible that this, as it touches their pockets, may become an eye-opener to some of the blind believers in the now empty name of Democracy.

If we succeed in the coming election, and there is now every indication that God is still with us, and that we shall, these issues of spurious currency, with other like "properties," being the joint stock of the united Rebel and Copperhead Democracy, will go with the party, whatever that may be. Both will be branded "Counterfeit," and be nailed to the counter. But should the loyal men fail in electing their great chief, Gen. Grant, to the Presidency, and the Democrats succeed, and carry out their doctrines as announced in their platform, and in the letters and speeches of their candidates and principal supporters, North and South, it will go hard if this spurious note and its likes will not be on par with the regular issues of the government of the United States. The value of either, the genuine and the counterfeit alike, would than not inaptly be represented by the figure 1, with an indefinite number of 00s on the left hand of that unit.

It is noticeable that the rascals have followed the lead of their elder brothers in fraud of the New York Convention, and have in this case, as in that, taken off the head of Chief Justice Chase, and put in its stead a face that seems to be prepared to say "My Friends."

That they have placed a tolerably exact fac simile of my signature, to certify to the truth of their infamously foul and dirty lies, is a personal indignity that will never be forgiven them. Although the general appearance of this counterfeit is much like the genuine, yet in order to inculcate their peculiarly dishonest doctrines upon their ignorant followers, they ingeniously changed the face of the note so that it reads, "The people of the United States promise to pay the Bondholders in Greenbacks, and they will enforce the contract;" and to follow out the lie, they have added to the end of the legend on the back of the note the words, "including the 5'20 bonds." It is not at all certain that it is not seriously contemplated by the Democratic party, should it succeed in the election of Mr. Seymour to the Presidency, to pay the debt of the United States with this Democratic currency. Such a course would certainly be but one step in advance on the road to infamy of their present open declarations. These fellows have probably forgotten that their Southern allies have already a currency, equally valueless, and in sufficient quantity, too, to suffice for that purpose, without this Northern issue. Or is it not possibly a part of the compact between them, that each of the high contracting party to the Fourth of July treaty at New York shall contribute to all rascally schemes, share and share alike? Your letter, together with the delectable document received with it, has been referred to the Solicitor of the Treasury, who has, by virtue of his office, this disgusting business of looking after rascals and their doings, specially in charge. He will, no doubt, attend to the cases of the rogues who are "shoving the queer" in a way that will be as nearly unpalatable to them as the results of this year's elections. Very respectfully yours,

F. E. SPINNER,
Treasurer United States.

S. A. GIBSON, Esq., Hollidaysburg, Pa.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

PENNSYLVANIA.

BY WHITTIER, IN 1856.

"O State prayer-founded! never hung
Such choice upon a people's tongue
Such power to bless or ban.
As that which makes thy whisper Fate,
For which on thee thy centuries wait,
And destinies of Man!

"Across thy Alleghanian chain,
With groanings from a land in pain,
The west wind finds its way;
Wild-wailing from Missouri's flood,
The crying of thy children's blood
Is in thy ears to-day!

"And unto thee, in Freedom's hour
Of sorest need, God gives the power
To ruin or to save;
To wound or heal, to blight or bless,
With fertile field or wilderness,
A free home or a grave!

"Then let thy virtue match the crime;
Rise to a level with the time;
And if a son of thine
Betray or tempt thee, Brutus-like,
For Fatherland and Freedom strike,
As Justice gives the sign.

"Wake, sleeper! from thy dream of ease;
The great occasion's forelock seize,
And let the North wind strong,
And golden leaves of Autumn, be
Thy coronal of victory
And thy triumphal song."

—Anna Dickinson has a keen appreciation of a good thing. She says: "A good thing is always a success, whether the public applaud, hiss, or make no demonstration whatever. I write as I talk, and talk to the common head and heart. Whoso does this succeeds inevitably."

—The Prairie du Chien (Wis.) Union contains a notice of the death, by consumption, of Judson Hurd. About a week before he died, he was ordered by his physicians to quit working, and he did his last type-setting on a notice of his own death, containing his history, &c.

—A deaf woman, walking on the track of a western railroad, was struck by the locomotive and thrown some ten feet. She sustained no serious injury, but since then has had full hearing. Any of our deaf friends doubting the truth of this great cure are advised to try the experiment on one of our numerous railways.

—A promising young student in Paris, while recently dissecting a diseased corpse, thoughtlessly applied his hand to an abrasure on his lip. Perceiving the consequences he quietly retired to his room and died without uttering one word of regret or telling any one of his inadvertence.

—Among the banners carried at the great Republican rally at Rock Island was one having the following acrostic:

—Capt. Hall, the arctic explorer, was once a prosperous merchant of Cincinnati. He got through with his money during his famous adventure, and now his family are in destitution in Cincinnati. We doubt very much whether Capt. Hall found anything colder away up about the North pole than his widow will in the charity of the world.

—The young lady of fortune who became a workwoman in a cotton factory in Connecticut, with the view of finding a man who would marry her for love, (says the Boston Journal,) and not for her money, has had an offer from a Bostonian, worth ten thousand dollars, who proffers a mediator one thousand dollars reward when he marries the woman.

—Great scandal was recently caused in St. Petersburg by a cavalry officer eloping with a General's daughter, leaving behind him a wife and family. The detective police tracked the fugitives and brought them back to St. Petersburg, and on inquiry it appeared that the General had been living for some time almost publicly with the officer's wife.

—A Boston correspondent of a Chicago paper says that candidates for matrimony living in the suburbs of the Hub find it necessary to send their friends no fewer than eight different cards. These are, first, the individual names of bride and bridegroom, two; then their joint title after marriage, three; the bride's parents receive, &c., four; ceremony at church, five; name of the clergymen, six; ushers, &c., seven; time of special trains to and from Boston to accomodate guests, eight.

—Planchette is a gross fraud. It will not write for those who can't write. Spiritualism and Mesmarism has nothing to do with its chirographical exhibitions. The mind of the operator invariably frames the answer, and, perhaps, unconsciously the hand moves in accordance with the will. Let a person place his two hands on a smooth surface just as he would on the Planchette board and he will observe that through the tax placed on his nerves, and pulsation, they will wander all over the paper, which goes to show that what is called Planchette has nothing to do with the phenomenon of writing.

—Dumas is coming to America next year. The Pall Mall Gazette says, in reference to his engagement in this country this year, but which is postponed: "Dumas has boasted in his memoirs of his talent for cooking; and it appears that of this, as of his other talents, he was to give palpable demonstration. After giving a reading and presiding at a performance he was to cook a dinner, of which the public was to be allowed to partake, at the rate of $5 a head. Admittance to the literary banquet was to cost but $1. For reading, reciting, and cooking, Dumas was to receive 25,000fr. a month, besides a share in the profits."

—Mary Hurlburt, from whose body physicians have extracted, during the past ten years, at least one thousand needles and pins, was found dead in her bed at Susquehanna, N. Y., last week. She would never give any account of the manner in which they were introduced, whether she swallowed them or thrust them directly into her flesh, nor did her friends, by watching her, ever find out. They were found at different times working on the surface of almost every part of the body, but chiefly on her limbs. A lady who refused to believe the stories about their removal, states that she went to satisfy herself, and saw a physician extract nearly fifty from one arm. The girl seemed very little affected by the operation.

THE extent of Thackeray's reading was not so wide as his admirers believe. His acquaintance with the reigns of Queen Anne and her immediate successors, in which it is thought he had especially well informed himself, was not, it seems, very extensive in its range. Everybody familiar with the period, will observe the defective and incomplete representation of the times made by the author in the novels he produced; but it is more manifest in his sketches of Swift and Steele. When Thackeray first gave his lectures on the English Humorist—most of whom, by the by, were Irishmen—he omitted in his notice of Swift all allusion to Swift's masterpiece, Gulliver. In his notice of Steele there was, and is, an omission ever more noteworthy. Steele, like Thackeray, was a Charter House boy, and it might have been thought that whilst recording his reminiscences of the school he would, in his dissertation on flogging, have alluded to Steele's paper on that subject in the "The Tattler," but the existence of the paper was entirely unknown to him. Shortly after the appearance of the "Humorist," a friend of ours, a well known author, dining with Thackeray, remarked on the singular omission, when the novelist frankly avowed his ignorance, and exclaimed, "by Jove! You don't mean to say that Steele has written on the subject? I would have given fifty pounds," he added, "to have known it at the time.—Lippincott's Magazine, October.

A MAN entered a café near Paris, where, after partaking freely, he said that having only two francs left he could not drink any more, as he wanted that sum to purchase charcoal sufficient to suffocate himself. "Nonsense," replied the landlord, "for ten centimes you can buy rope to hang yourself." "You're right," said the man, and accordingly spent all but the ten centimes. The next morning his body was found hanging to the branch of a tree in front of the café.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, October 1, 1868.

CRUDE.

It was generally conceded that the market was stronger to-day, and, compared with yesterday, an advance of fully half a cent has been established. There were two lots of 1,000 each reported for October, seller's option, at 12c; and—last evening—there was a sale of 3,000 bbls, in tank, for immediate delivery, at 12c, and 3,000 for all October, buyer's option, at same figure. Late in the day it was rumored that there had been a sale of spot oil at 12¼c, and at the close, holders generally, were asking 12½c. As will be seen from the above, the demand seems to be confined mainly to October, and as the supply available for this month is reported considerably diminished, to this, more than anything else, may be attributed the advance established to-day.

REFINED.

Spot oil opened a little weak this morning, two sales having been made at 29½c, but subsequently, it grew stronger, and late in the day sales were made at 30c. October, both first and last half ruled steady all day, though not quotably higher. The sales were:

500 bbls	immediate	29½c
500 "	"	29½c
1000 "	"	30c
1000 "	first half October	30⅜c
500 "	last half October	31c
1000 "	" "	31c
500 "	" "	31c
500 "	last half November	30c

From the above, it will be seen that the month opens up rather auspiciously for sellers, though the advance, as yet, is very slight; that there is a firmer feeling for this month is generally conceded, and there are some who are very sanguine that before it closes, prices will be full as high as they were at any time last month. Last October, if we mistake not, prices were higher than during any time last year, though, of course, it does not follow, that the same thing will occur this year. "Circumstances alters cases," and we are not prepared to state that the oil trade is in the same condition now that it was this time last year.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—There is a better inquiry for flannels for winter wear, and the market for these is apart from fancy goods and has a hardening tendency in sympathy with wool, which is decidedly firmer. Cotton goods continue weak and some concessions are being made from day to day. The most important decline noticeable to-day is in Cooper & Co's. and Stewart's prints, which are off, and offered as low as 10½c per yard, and it is probable other prints will be reduced in price to correspond with this decline.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly at this point with five feet two inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather yesterday was cloudy and warm, with an occasional sprinkling of rain.

The Maggie Hays, from St. Louis, is the only transient arrival we have to report. The Glendale, from the same point, was due last night, and the Camelia ought to reach here to-morrow.

The Bayard arrived and departed for Parkersburg. The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-morrow, leaving at noon.

The Bellevernon and Leonidas cleared for St. Louis. The Bellevernon left here with a very fair trip, drawing four feet three inches. Pilots—John Ferguson and Andy Bunting.

The Andrew Ackley was advertised to leave Fort Benton for St. Louis on the 25th.

The Lorena, Capt. Sam Shuman, has a sign up for St. Louis.

The Glasgow, Capt. Robinson, Jr., is announced to leave for Cincinnati and Louisville this evening.

The towboat Antelope has returned to the landing, being unable to get her barges off "Merriman."

The Yorktown, Capt. Geo. W. Ebbert, will get off for Cincinnati and Louisville to-morrow without fail.

—The St. Mary's arrived at New Orleans on the 27th.

—The Messenger, left St. Louis for Pittsburgh, on Tuesday.

—The Ida Rees No. 2, is loading at Cincinnati, for Pittsburgh.

—The Mollie Gratz was sold at Jeffersonville on Tuesday for $4,500.

—The tow-boats, Grand Lake and Boaz, enroute from Pittsburgh to New Orleans, arrived at Louisville on Tuesday.

—Capt. Kirk says if he were to die to-day, would leave his family only his clotnes. What a contrast to the uncontradicten statement that Capt. Cannon made $96,000 season before last with the Robert E. Lee. The Gen. Quitman cleared $73,000 during the same time, but the profit of neither last season approached to anything like these sums.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Wednesday, says: It happened yesterday that tonnage for New Orleans was so abundant on berth, that the City of Alton withdrew to wait for the coming. Besides there was quite a lively time on 'Change among the agents of the steamers and barge lines, and the rate settled to 25c per bbl for flour, and other articles in proportion. The Magenta wanted but little and got it. The Mollie Able goes out this morning with all she wants, and two barge flotillas continue to receive all that offers.

—We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial of Wednesday: The Ida Rees No. 2 arrived from Pittsburgh with a full cargo, reshipping 75 tuns for Louisville on the Charmer. She returns to Pittsburgh, having engaged 1,000 bales of hay at $4 per tun. The R. C. Gray also arrived from Pittsburgh with a full cargo...Capt. Amos E. Davis, yesterday, purchased the side-wheel steamer Golden Eagle from the Memphis Packet Co., for $20,000 for the Cincinnati and Wheeling trade...The Echo No. 3 arrived from the Kahawha last night with six barges, containing 60,000 bushels of cannel coal. Capt. Ford, late of the Charlie Bowen, commands the Echo.

—A collision occurred on Tuesday night last, a short distance below Wheeling, between the Wheeling and Parkersburg packet Rebecca and the towboat Dick Fulton. The former was on her return trip from Parkersburg, and when about opposite the lower end of the Island, her pilot discovered the latter boat approaching. He immediately blew the whistle—the signal for keeping the larboard side. The whistle of the Fulton was sounded once, and she then changed her course across the river in front of the ascending steamer. When this was perceived by the pilot of the Rebecca, the bell at the engine was rung and the wheels stopped. Her momentum carried her forward, however, far enough to strike the wheel of the Fulton, carrying it away. Her hull, it is believed was not injured, nor was any other part of her damaged, so far as we could ascertain. She was run to the Island shore and is now lying there. The crash was heard several squares from the river, and quite a number of persons quickly gathered on the landing.

IF ANY one doubts the corrupt measures adopted by the opposition to carry uncertain districts of Pennsylvania at the approaching election, let him read the sworn statement of Mr. J. H. JONES, published in our local columns.

* * *

THE GRANDEST national spectacle of our day is that presented by the soldiers of our country in Convention assembled at Philadelphia. In time of peace the gallant defenders of the Union meet to declare their fidelity to the principles for which they fought, and to re-assert their opposition to those who seek to overthrow the Government. The effect of such a conclave will be to more solidly unite the masses and to cheer all in the holy work of exalting the great Union defender and leader, General GRANT, to the highest position in the gift of the people.

* * *

IT SEEMS doubtful, notwithstanding the apparent unanimity with which Gen. B. F. BUTLER was renominated for Congress in the Vth District of Massachusetts, whether he can be re-elected. His renunciation of the scheme of paying the bonds in greenbacks was made a condition precedent to his renomination; and even this failed to satisfy the masses of the Republicans. These will bring out Mr. RICHARD H DANA, Jr., as an independent Republican candidate, and he will secure, in addition, the votes of all the Democrats who will aid in the election of any body to secure the defeat of GEN. BUTLER. In consequence, the contest promises to be close, with the chances in favor of Mr. DANA.

* * *

MR. DELMAR was Statistician to the Government, and proved to be so wretchedly incompetent that Congress turned him adrift by abrogating the office he held. Recently the Democrats engaged him to demonstrate mathematically that the finances of the government were going to the bad; which he did after his peculiar fashion. All men who know him, or knew of him, would place no reliance upon his computations; but the mass of Democrats never heard of him, until they saw his name appended to his dolorous exposition.

Mr. MCCULLOCH, supporter of SEYMOUR and BLAIR though he is, could not remain silent under this shameless assault upon the national credit, for party purposes, and asserts that Mr. DELMAR's figures are false from beginning to end. Of course—for DELMAR could by no possibility get figures together in an orderly and truthful way.

HOW THE SOLDIERS VOTE.

Our neighbors of the Dispatch printed, a day or two since, some interesting statistics of the military vote in past years. For example, the soldiers from twelve Republican counties of this State in 1864 gave 4,469 votes for MCCLELLAN and 10,493, or 5,024 majority, for LINCOLN. And the soldiers from twelve of the strongest Democratic counties gave MCCLELLAN 2,604 votes, and for LINCOLN 5,243, or 2,639 majority. The proportion of the Union vote was about the same in each case. Whence, it follows that either the enlistments from the copperhead counties were mainly of Union men, or else that Democrats enlisting therefrom speedily realized new convictions of patriotic duty, and left their old associates, doubtless for ever.

AN APPEAL.

Republicans of Pennsylvania! a crisis of vast and unparalelled importance is upon the country, to be settled by you in large part at the October election. It is not a crisis relating to, or produced by, differences concerning ordinary principles or measures of administration. It grows out of radical divergencies as to elementary ideas and the adaptations thereof to the very organization or existence of the Government.

The question remanded for popular adjudication is whether the Rebellion, conquered on the field of battle, and compelled to make an unconditional surrender, shall, by the use of deceptive political tactics, be permitted to assume the administration of the Government it defied, deliver itself from all the restraints properly imposed upon it in order to secure the public repose, and be in a position to inflict any humiliation upon the loyal defenders of the Union, which its instinct of revenge may suggest.

Though this statement indicates the chief peril of the hour, there are other mischiefs of serious consequence, which must grow inevitably out of the restoration of the Democratic party to power. Animated by sympathy, if not actual complicity, with the Rebellion, from its inception through all the stages of its progress, sharing in its new-born hopes of accomplishing by management many of the ends recently aimed at by gigantic force, and partaking in large measure of that insatiable lust of revenge which always attends baffled pride and disappointed ambition, it has devised a financial policy which addresses the passions of the ignorant and reckless, but strikes fatally at confidence, steadiness and permanence in the ongoings of all the larger and more important business pursuits of the country. When DANTON, MURAT and ROBESPIERRE sought the attainment and retention of power in France, they made the wildest appeals to the envies, the jealousies, and malignities of the least discriminating of the industrial classes. Passing mainly by the numerous and influential orders of skilled workmen, which in all ages and nations are the ripest product of the best civilization, and constitute the primest reliance of the State, they directed their insidious and envenomed appeals to those who, through want of foresight, or incapacity, or improvidence, or vice, or crime, had fallen into the abyss of the dangerous classes, and were intent upon waging a savage and unrelenting crusade upon all who, through sobriety, diligence, skill and honesty had accumulated competencies, and established their families in circumstances of comfort and respectability. Success in life, no matter how honorably won, was made an unpardonable offence. Even tidiness of apparel was made a reproach, and often the occasion of the extremest violence. Vagabonds and outcasts were elevated from the depths into which they had, either from deliberation or desperation, sunk themselves into the rank of victims of oppression at the hands of all the industrious and cultivated members of society. The do-nothings and the be-nothings were dirtily paraded as deserving of the highest consideration and care of the State; and the execution of such bloody exactions as they blindly saw proper to impose became the earnest employment and the frantic delight of the mob.

The Democratic party of this country has not reached that extreme point, but is pushing with great vigor in that direction. Whoever listens thoughtfully to the fiery appeals which its orators address to the people, cannot fail to perceive the honor they practically bestow upon failure in all worthy enterprises, and the fury they would visit if they had the power upon all who through energy, industry, skill and probity have accomplished anything of value for themselves or the country.

This attempted coalition between the rebel leaders and the dangerous or disaffected classes of the population of the loyal States, is one of the pregnant and perilous signs of the times. It is not a sign that has just made itself visible. With what terrible power it flashed out during the war in the New York riots, which required for their repression the withdrawal of a military force of thirty thousand men from confronting the armed champions of rebellion in the field. Who doubts, that has either studied history or carefully observed the development of human society before his eyes, what that outburst of demoniac fury meant? or to what lengths it would have gone, in sackings, rapes, conflagrations and butcheries, if a superior power had not effectually mastered it? Nothing was more natural than that this coalition should be manifested first, and with immense energy in the commercial metropolis of the Republic. Where population is densest, furnishing readiest coverts and hiding places for criminals; where the competitions in all departments of business are most active and managed with the largest amount of adroitness and talent, causing the weaker and less competent to fall out by the way; where the highest prizes of life, both in respect to wealth and social positions, are drawn by the adventurous and discerning, there will necessarily be witnessed the widest extremes of opulence and poverty, of honor and dishonor, of contentment and unrest, of satisfaction with the allotments of fortune and of burrowing hate thereto, and unquenchable desire to seek sanguinary reprisals.

Things which are intimately and indissolubly related to each other by principles and tendencies, do not always have the same outward manifestations, and simply because the local surrounding circumstances are different. If the Democratic leaders, in their dangerous appeals to passions and prejudices, are not now going to the extent and with the dire results witnessed in New York, it is because the opportunities presented to them are not the same. According to the occasion they are doing the utmost they can.

For these reasons and in this way a most desperate struggle is now going on to capture Pennsylvania for the rebels. As during the war the armed enemies of the loyal North sought time after time to reach her through Pennsylvania, so now they repeat the effort under such instrumentalities as can now alone be employed. All that desperate and unscrupulous men—men who have not hesitated at perjury, treason and assassination—can do, will be done to bring about that result. Stuffing ballot-boxes, buying votes, fraudulent certificates of naturalization, colonization of votes—all the appliances of political corruption and fraud—will be freely resorted to.

Upon an honest poll—or upon a poll with no more than the ordinary amount of cheating—the Republican majority in October would not be less than twenty thousand. The recently disclosed preparations for fraud constrain us to admonish Republicans everywhere within our borders to be on their guard. A double duty devolves on them. They have first to see that all their copartizans who are legally entitled to vote go to the polls and exercise that right; and they have also to see that no more men vote the Democratic ticket than are fairly entitled to that privilege. A victory of from five to eight thousand will answer all the local purposes involved in the State election; but so low a majority will not accomplish results still more desirable. A majority of twenty-thousand will substantially make an end of the contest throughout the country; and end it so effectually that it cannot be renewed.

Republicans of Pennsylvania! we appeal to you, in view of the gravity of the crisis—of the momentous consequences involved, both for yourselves and your children—to give the few days that intervene between this and the election to the high task of securing the national administration in loyal hands.

THE ELECTION FRAUDS.

The Harrisburg Telegraph announces that the resignation of Judge STRONG was not because of the inadequate salary, "but because he could not sanction the illegal and tyrannical course pursued by his Democratic brethren on the bench." The Telegraph then makes the annexed explanation:

> "Last Saturday the startling discoveries were made that this Supreme Court, the highest tribunal in the State, were engaged in manufacturing naturalization papers at the rate of twelve in every five minutes, that the tipstaves of the Court were administering oaths to applicants, and other irregularities practiced which would disgrace the lowest judicial tribunals. The action of Chief Justice Thompson, on Monday last, in refusing qualified citizens to be present and take notice of the number of persons naturalized, evidence presented, &c., has no doubt disgusted Judge Strong to such an extent that he determined not to be a party to such outrageous proceedings, and his resignation was tendered.
> "The Republicans will hereafter have, notwithstanding the basest fraud committed on the elective franchise, a majority of the judges, which enables them to ignore former criminal decisions, and also correct the frauds committed in the issue of illegal naturalization papers."

The announcement of the resignation of Judge STRONG was instantly followed by Judge THOMPSON with a reversal of his action, so far that parties are now permitted to make lists of the names and vouchers for publication. That resignation, and the certainty that Gov. GEARY would fill the vacancy by the appointment of a fearless as well as upright Judge, no doubt prompted Judge THOMPSON to yield to the pressure which demanded that full publicity should be given to the workings of the "Democratic Naturalization Machine." That publicity becomes the more necessary when it is known that, on Monday last, "the Supreme Court granted seven hundred and twenty naturalization papers in five hours, making voters at the rate of twelve every five minutes; and this was done in the absence of the judges by the clerks of the court. Blank papers, signed and sealed, it is even charged, have been issued by the Supreme Court, to be filled up at any street corner, or in any tavern." Friends of a pure suffrage are determined that the how, where and by whom these outrageous abuses may be perpetrated shall no longer be concealed. So far, they have gained their point and it is a long step towards the attainment of a remedy.

Judge WILLIAMS will sit until December 1869, and, with Justices READ and AGNEW, now making a majority of the Court, will, as the Telegraph pointedly says, ensure to the people a just and sharp correction for the frauds which are now on foot. And these frauds, there is reason to believe, are upon a scale of magnitude and audacity which very seriously threatens to nullify the choice of the majority of honest voters, unless successfully exposed and resisted before it shall be too late.

A REQUEST.

We desire to make each day some brief record of the current meetings of our friends, in all parts of the county, but the political movement is so active and general, many meetings occurring on the same evening, and at distances too great to be reached by our reporters, that we have not been able to notice all of them as they have occurred. Our reporters cannot be ubiquitous, and the field is so large that our force would need to be trebled in numbers to cover its entire extent. We have, therefore, to request our friends to supply us, promptly, with the data of all meetings held outside of the cities, the numbers in attendance, the names of speakers, and such other particulars as may be of interest. All meetings thus reported to us shall have proper mention in the GAZETTE. We repeat; let it be made the duty of some good Republican to see that we have a brief report of every meeting, for which we engage a prompt publication. We want time, place, numbers in attendance, speakers' names, music and leading incidents; what the speakers may say is of less consequence, as we all know that they are right. Will our friends heed this request?

* * *

A CORRESPONDENT at Nashville (Tenn.) writes us, apropos to the recent municipal election held in that city, thus:

> "Every voter in the city, white and black, labored hard for their respective candidates. It is quite amusing to see the affinity existing between white men and negroes on election day. 'Negro equality' is not once disputed, but all are brothers in the same noble cause."

THE SPANISH REVOLUTION.

Queen ISABELLA no longer reigns; a fugitive from the vengeful justice of a too long misgoverned and outraged people, she has taken refuge upon the soil of France. The last of the crowned BOURBONS to be dethroned, her restoration is also the most hopeless. Even the ex-King of Naples may sooner regain his forfeited possessions from Italy, than this weak and worthless woman can expect to be recalled to power over a people which has expelled her with such wonderful unanimity. Among the sixteen millions of her late subjects, not an adherent could be found to maintain her cause with faithful resolution, nor a soldier to fight for her loyally and to the death. The army, the people, the nobility, and the masses, grandees and shop-keepers, even her confidential counsellors and most highly trusted generals, seem to have fraternized together with the common purpose of re-acquiring the national honors, the ancient dignity and the immemorial rights of the Spanish people, by excluding foreevr the wicked and shameless dynasty which has put all these in such desperate peril. The movement seems to have been accomplished with little or no blood-shed, and the government has been assumed by a Provisional Junta, to the entire satisfaction of an orderly and tranquilized people.

We have, at this moment, no means for judging what may be the ultimate adjustment of Spanish Sovereignty, known hitherto under the nominal guise of a limited monarchy, with a partial popular representation in the two Chambers of the Cortez. The government, in ISABELLA's hands, has been practically a constant struggle between, not two, but three parties—the Court with its Absolutist tendencies, the popular constituencies usually represented by the thoughtful, enlightened and cautious Moderados, and the small number of leading grandees and generals who have sought their own personal advancement by serving alternately as props for a tottering throne and tribunes for an unquiet and complaining people. The union of two of these against the third has almost uniformly resulted in the repression of the Moderados, and in making a monarchy, limited in theory, in fact nearly absolute, so long as it was sustained by a small but powerful cabal.

The Democratic sentiment in Spain is very limited and weak. The people are essentially attracted to a monarchical form of government. Already, we hear talk of universal suffrage, and that the new order of government will be largely republicanized. We have but little faith in such a result being accomplished. Spain is not yet capable of a purely popular self-control. The Crown is still regarded by her people as the dearest and only natural symbol of sovereignty, and a monarchy must continue to be the only form of government in which they will contentedly acquiesce. No doubt the result of the present movement, will be to define more clearly and to enlarge more broadly the limitations hedging in the prerogatives of the throne, by so much increasing the weight of the popular element in the conduct of public affairs, but, with these conditions, Spain will again be loyal to the King, whom sooner or later, she will invite to the throne. Whomever this choice may fall upon, seems now to be the only question which threatens the harmony of the nation, or concerns the politics of the continent.

SUCCESSORSHIP TO JUDGE WILLIAMS.

An effort is being made to secure to our gifted fellow-citizen, Major A. M. BROWN, the office to be made vacant by the elevation of Judge H. W. WILLIAMS from the bench of the Allegheny County District Court to that of the State Supreme Court. The many friends of Major A. M. BROWN will be disappointed to learn that he refuses to become a candidate, as the following letter will show:

> EDITORS GAZETTE: Having been informed that my name has been suggested for appointment to the Bench of the District Court, in view of the supposed vacancy created by the nomination of the Honorable Henry W. Williams to the Supreme Bench, I beg leave to state that I am not a candidate for judicial honors, nor will I be an applicant for the position in the event of Judge Williams' retirement from the District Court. A. M. BROWN.

THE Irish People, a Democratic newspaper and the leading Irish journal of New York, eloquently denounces Mr. JOHN T. HOFFMAN, who spoke in this city last night. We quote one of its paragraphs:

> "From the time when he, as Recorder, tried to fasten the odium of the July riots of 1863 on the Irishmen of New York, by visiting with the highest penalty of the law every poor dupe of his own party's villainy who bore an Irish name, while he let off with a caution or discharged as blameless, the ring leaders who were the hired agents of his friends in the Confederacy and Great Britain—from that time this man, Hoffman has never missed an opportunity, we say again and again, of injuring and insulting the Irish people of America. Therefore, if God spares us life and strength to do it, we shall go to the polls, for the first time in our life, next November, and deposit our protest against the election of Hoffman in the shape of a ballot bearing the name of his opponent.

THE increase of voters in England under the Reform Act of 1867 is very large in some towns. In Glasgow the new constituency now numbers 47,749, while in 1867 there were only 18,361 voters on the list, an increase of 29,388. On the other hand, in the City of London the new list contains 20,913 voters, of whom 2,000 are supposed to be duplicated entries. The whole number of registered voters at the last contested election was 17,514, so that the recent Reform Act has not affected London. This statement does not include the boroughs surrounding the city.

A MOUNT CARMEL (Ill.) letter says: "Our distinguished fellow-citizen, Robert Bell, Esq., has entirely renounced Democracy, and come out fairly and squarely on the Republican platform. In company with Hon. E. Callahan, he will stump this (Thirteenth) Congressional District for Grant, Colfax, Raum, and the Union. He thinks the continued success of the Republican party is the only surety of peace and prosperity. Mr. Bell is an able and eloquent orator, and is one of the most valuable accessions to our party in Southern Illinois."

THE DUTIES OF THE ASSESSORS.—One of the qualifications of a voter in Pennsylvania is the having paid a tax which shall have been assessed at least ten days before the election. The question is frequently presented to the assessors, whether an alien who is entitled to take out his naturalization papers within ten days can be assessed before he becomes a citizen. On October 3d, 1865, the point was submitted to Justices Strong and Thompson, of the Supreme Court, who decided that the right to vote depended upon the fact that the person who presented his ballot was a citizen at the time when he appeared at the polls, and it was not necessary that he should be naturalized when assessed.

A SLIGHT COLD, COUGH,

OR SORE THROAT may be checked if a reliable remedy is applied at once, but if neglected very soon preys upon the lungs, and the result may prove fatal. The past few weeks of changeable temperature and cold rains are fruitful sources of troubles of the lungs, throat and chest. If you are attacked by a cold, no matter how slight, use at once

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP,

Which is an old and well tried remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, and all Affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

DR SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Is entirely free from any deleterious ingredient, and can be given with perfect safety to the youngest child.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Gives sure and almost immediate relief to hoarseness and that annoying sensation, tickling, in the throat. If you would obtain a reliable remedy, be sure and call for

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP.

If your Druggist does not keep it, ask him to get it for you.

WE ARE NOT CAST IRON.

Cast Iron undergoes marked changes under the alternate action of heat and cold, and the human body is not cast iron. On the contrary, it is a combination of delicate tissues and fibres, which are exquisitely sensitive to atmospheric changes, and, unless protected against sudden and violent variations of temperature by wise precautions, are sure to be disastrously affected by them.

At this season the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other period of the year, and the stomach, the liver, the bowels and the nervous system are apt to receive violent shocks from these changes, resulting in indigestion, bilious attacks, debility, low nervous fever, fever and ague, remittent fever, &c. Sustain and reinforce these organs, therefore, with the purest and most potent of all vegetable tonics and alteratives, viz: HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The effect of this matchless invigorant is to brace up the whole vital organization, and regulate its action. Useful at all seasons as a means of promoting perfect digestion, an even and natural flow of bile, and a healthy condition of the bowels and the skin, it is especially necessary in the Fall when the complaints arising from checked perspiration are so common. It is found, by those who are in the habit of using this agreeable and unequalled tonic, that it so strengthens and fortifies the body as to render it proof against the morbid influences which infect the air during the prevalence of epidemics.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative in all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable, and so mostly fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross dozen or single bottle, at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood St.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENT OFFICE for LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND THE TREATMENT OF OBSTINATE CHRONIC DISEASES, 120 PENN STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA. Office hours from 9 A. M. UNTIL 4 P. M.

Naturalization in New York.

A large piece of brown paper placed over each door of the liquor-store No. 1 Centre street, and marked with large letters, informs the alien that the "Tammany Hall Naturalization Committee Meets Here," and within, yesterday, were seated around some tables about a dozen clerks with pens stuck over their ears, and a pile of naturalization papers before them, waiting for the runners to bring in the victims. As each one received his paper, a clerk who sat near the door supplied him with a ticket that is good for fifty cents' worth of naturalization certificate. There was no crowd there yesterday, and the clerks amused themselves much of the time in filling out papers with imaginary names, 'just to get their hands in."—Tribune.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

☞ LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies with suitable endorsement, should be addressed To THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

Gold is again dull, with a decided downward tendency; the market opened at 140⅛, dropped to 139¼, advanced to 140, and closed weak and dull at 139¼. The large Government sales of gold made it quite plenty in the market, and instead of paying for the loans it costs an extra interest to carry it. The feeling in the gold room is decidedly bearish, and much lower rates are expected before November next.

Government bonds remain very weak during the decline of gold, and speculators alike, with the heavy dealers keep aloof from the market. The disposition among smaller dealers is to buy, but the offerings are small.

Stocks are firm, and seem to be carried much higher; the cliques are well provided with cheap money.

Business dull. Money more in demand.

—We clip the following from the Chicago Post of Wednesday: The recent failure of E. V. Robbins, the President of the Board of Trade, was a leading topic of discussion during the session to-day. Mr. Robbins has been long known as one of our most upright, judicious and successful business men, and feeling in regard to his misfortune is one of universal regret. The amount involved is supposed to be in the neighborhood of $75,000, though not definitely known. It is hoped that some accommodation can be made whereby Mr. Robbins can continue in business as heretofore. A letter was read from him, to-day, tendering his resignation as President of the Board. It is not believed that the directors will accept it.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

The market shows no signs of improvement, but on the other hand, if there can be any change noted it is certainly for the worse, as prices were generally considerably lower than those reported one week ago. The offerings were only of a fair quality, there being but few choice Cattle in the yards. There was no disposition manifested by eastern buyers to take hold with any freedom. The sales reported for the past week were 2,072 head. Since Friday morning last we note sales of 713 head at a range of prices from $3 for bulls to $6,75 per cwt. for the best. The sales were as follows:

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. sold to Judd 50 head of Kansas heifers at $17 per head.

SHEEP.

There were a large number of Sheep on sale numbering, as will be seen from the sales below, some 13,432 head for the week ending this evening. The sales last week were only 8,425 head. There were but little change in prices from those reported one week ago as there was a brisk demand, and nearly all kind of stock sold readily. Most of the sales ranged from $3,25 to 4,50 per hundred. Very choice sold higher, and very inferior lower. The general quality of the sheep on sale was common and medium though there were a large number of good mutton sheep offering and these readily went off at full prices. We note sales as follows:

HOGS.

There was a dull market, with a less demand for first class Hogs, which were fully 25c per cwt. lower. The medium class were in better demand, and commanded fully last week's figures. Prices last week ranged from $8,25 to $11,25 per cwt., whilst this week the best commanded but $10,85, and down to $8 per cwt. The sales reported since Friday last were 4,820 head. Total for the week ending this evening 6,848 head. We note sales as follows:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY, October 1, 1868. }

The general markets are devoid of any new or important features worthy of special notice. The "corner" in the Chicago Corn market partially collapsed on Wednesday, closing at $1,09, against sales during the day at $1,15 to $1,18; it seems that we were in error in stating that all our operators here sold too soon, as we learn that one of them had the nerve to hold until it got up to $1,15, when it closed out at a very handsome profit.

APPLES—In good supply but unchanged; at $3,00 to $4 per barrel.

BUTTER—Is a shade easier under the influence of increased arrivals, but prices are unchanged; 38 to 40c for packed, and 42 to 43c for choice roll.

EGGS—Steady at 24 to 25.

CHEESE—Is firm with regular sales, at 17 to 21c, according to quality.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is scarce and in demand, and may be quoted at $2,45 to $2,50. Timothy Seed is in good supply and offering freely at $3,50. No movement in Clover Seed.

HAY—Prime to choice baled Hay is selling on arrival at $30 to $32. Wagon Hay is still quoted at $30 to 40, as to quality.

LARD OIL—Firm but unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

SALT—Is dull and unchanged at $1,75 to the trade, and $1,90 to $2, in a retail way.

POTATOES—Very dull; we now quote Peach Blows at 90c, on track, and 95c to $1, in store. Jersey Sweets selling in store at $6.

ONIONS—Firm and higher, with sales reported at $4,50 to $5 per bbl.

GRAIN—Wheat is dull but unchanged; No. 1 Spring, $1,80 to $1,85, and No. 1 Winter, $2,05 to $2,10. Rye is steady, notwithstanding it is declining in Chicago; sales at $1,45 to $1,50. Barley is in limited supply and firm with a good demand; sales of good to prime Penna. and Ohio Spring at $1,90 to $2, and choice Canada at $2,05 to $2,10. Oats steady but unchanged at 65 to 66 on track and in elevator, and and 68 to 70, in store. Corn firm at $1,15 to $1,18, for mixed to prime Yellow.

TALLOW—Prime rendered is in steady demand at 12½ to 13c.

FEATHERS—Offered at 75c on arrival, for live geese.

HEMP—Quoted at $200 per ton.

FLOUR — Continues quiet and weak but unchanged. Choice Spring Wheat brands are selling at $9,25 to $9,50. The mills continue to quote at $10,50 for Extra Family in bbls, and $10,20 in sacks; Double Extra at $11 in bbls, and $10,70 in sacks. Rye Flour, $8.75.

WHISKY—The market continues firm and as but few of the distilleries are in operation, in consequence of the high price of grain, it is not likely that the supply, which is now very light, will be much increased. We quote at present rectified per gallon $1,30; highwines per gallon $1,40; half rye and half corn per gallon $1,75; old Monongahela two years old, per gallon $2,25; and old Monongahela three years old $3,50 per gallon.

A Remarkable Woman.

(From the New Orleans Picayune.)

In a low, tumbled down building in the old Faubourg St. Mary, reeking with perpetual damps, and with the mould of nearly a century on its roof, lives an old woman whose career is one of the most remarkable in the history of New Orleans.

Once brilliant and beautiful, she yet retains traces, though dimmed and fading, of that exquisite loveliness which made her the belle and leader of fashion in her native city. An only child, born to immense wealth and education in every accomplishment which the most learned European seminary could supply, at eighteen she shone upon the world of fashion here without a rival. Courted and flattered, with innumerable suitors, she discarded the advances of men, and appeared only anxious to enjoy the society in which she moved so conspicuous and brilliant an ornament. But it was not destined for her to remain so. It is said that no woman can exist without loving, and she proved no exception to the generality of her sex. Her attachment was, however, unworthily bestowed and lamentable in its results. Passionate and jealous, she unfortunately found in her husband too much cause for their indulgence. Neglected, her love turned to hate—scorned, her resentment was implacable. In a moment of fiercely stimulated passion she abandoned her home and friends, and shortly afterward appeared at a foreign court in that most disreputable of all characters, a female adventuress.

But if her calling was disgraceful her career was distinguished. She became the ruling spirit that guided and controlled the actions of monarchy. At her nod, brilliant meteors faded from the galaxy of fashion, armies swept over hostile borders. But a revolution arose in the land and she became the inmate of a prison. Escaping thence by the leniency of those who dashed the Bourbon Charles from power, she next appeared as the minion of an Indian Rajah. Her name is yet abhorred by the matrons of English India, and little children are taught to scorn the impious treason of her example. But as her years grew on apace her beauty waned, and then came loss of power. Spurned by the virtuous and hated by the court, a wanderer of many years she came back to her native land. Her friends were dead—the memory of her early triumphs had passed away. She stood a solitary wreck in the city of her birth amid the ruins of her life. None knew her—none would. Scorned by the good, and feared by the bad, she has led a hermit's life. Sometimes old crones would come and gossip with her; at others youth would pause to wonder at the wreck that time has wrought. But recollection still stirs her heart, and from the shadowy aisles of memory come smiles and tears to beam or darken on her face.

In adapting the dress to the shape and size of the wearer, a certain knowledge of drawing, and of the proper proportions of the figure is, of course, the chief help. There are, however, a few well ascertained rules which may safely be taught. One, for instance, is that transverse shapes generally tend to lessen height and increase breadth, while longitudinal forms have the opposite effect. Another well known rule (which I believe is easily explained by a reference to optical science,) is the tendency of light colors to increase the apparent size, and vice versa. People of more than average size should be cautious about wearing white or very light colors for this reason, although it must always be remembered that proportion and color impress the eye so much more sensibly than mere scale that this rule is a very subordinate one, and only to be applied after those more important subjects have been thoroughly considered. It should, however, be remembered that more than average size necessarily involves a certain degree of conspicuousness, which makes any peculiarity of dress doubly undesirable in such cases. A small person may wear with impunity both colors and shapes, which would be inexcusably striking on a large figure. Nothing goes so far to redeem unusual size as complete repose both in form and color. Much trimming, loose ends and streamers, frills and furbelows, and caprices of all kinds are apt to become intolerable when magnified, while on a small scale they may please, by a certain fluttering airiness which is in keeping with the impression of a tiny creature. But here also proportion may almost reverse the effect of scale. A short, heavy figure may even more imperatively need quietness in dress than one of twice its actual volume which has run up into slenderness. And this naturally leads me to the second respect in which dress should be adapted to the wearer, namely, character; which, indeed, is scarcely separable from the form on which it is impressed, and according to which such questions as the last should mainly be decided.—Cornhill Magazine.

A Pocket-Book Recovered, and a Funeral Not Attended.

[From the Wilmington (Ill.) Independent Sept. 23.]

A singular affair occurred in this city, on Wednesday last, which we chronicle as we learn the facts, considering it one of the boldest strokes at recovering stolen funds we have yet heard of. We suppress the names of the principals through sympathy for the relatives of one of the parties. A Mr. C. had in a table drawer in his house a pocket-book containing $450, which on the day named he found had been stolen. Only one person knew that he had the money, and where it was kept. Convinced of this fact he repaired to the cemetery and dug a grave. He then called upon the suspected person, with whom he had previous been on very friendly terms, and asked him to take a walk, as he had a little business with him. Conducting his victim to the new made grave, he said: "Do you see that grave?" "Yes." "Well, sir," said C., placing a revolver in the other's face, "that is your grave unless you give me that money this minute." The wallet, with all the money except some $50, was handed over, and the guilty party has fled the city. This is about the coolest transaction we have heard of.

WE READ in Harper's Bazar that Mr. George W. Childs, the energetic, sagacious, successful, genial proprietor of the Philadelphia Ledger, goes to Europe next month, with his accomplished wife, for a little respite from the arduous duties of journalism. No man is better entitled to it. Not long since Mr. Childs, with characteristic generosity, presented to persons employed in responsible positions on the Ledger, life insurance policies amounting in the aggregate to $4,000—undertaking, at the same time, to pay the premium—about $3,000 per annum, for ten years, at the expiration of which time, the policies become, by their terms, self-paying.

THE Paris Figaro describing the wound made by a Chassepot bullet, mentions that the entrance is not larger than the tip of the little finger, but that the exit leaves a ghastly wound, larger than the crown of a hat, and adds: This little description must delight M. de Girardin, who wants to have the Rhenish frontier, and who would without hesitation, sacrifice fifty thousand men (taking good care that he will not figure as one of the number) to arrive at that desideratum.

Colorado.

A Denver dispatch, dated September 19, says that the Democratic candidate for delegate was defeated by Frank Blair and his speech. The dispatch adds:

The Democrats had counted on at least three hundred majority for their candidate in this city, but, to make the thing sure, they imported Frank Blair from Cheyenne, the day before election, received him in grand style, and in the evening they had a torchlight procession, and Blair addressed the mob. And such a speech! I can best describe it by stating that it disgusted all decent Democrats, many of whom openly avowed their determination to vote for sober and not drunken men, for he was drunk beyond the question of a doubt, and was put to bed in that condition by some of his supporters. He went to the mountains the next day, and returning a few days after, very quietly left for the East, for the city had gone Republican by over two hundred majority, and the Democrats were charging him with being the author of all their woes. Blair's speech decided it against the Democratic candidate. Our people do not want another war; they therefore could not vote for a man who was in favor of electing Blair Vice President. Republicans congratulate themselves on the fact that Blair did speak in Denver, and regret that he did not arrive in time to address the people in other parts of the Territory, for had he done so the Democratic Party would have been annihilated.

Brigands Entrapped.

The Giornale di Roma says: "Beneath Verdi, a pontifical town built like an eagle's nest on the summit of a sterile mountain, extends the estate, admirably cultivated, of a Roman noble. The proprietor having been summoned by the brigands to send four thousand scudi (twenty thousand francs) to a certain spot, applied for the protection of the gendarmery. An arrangement was made that a vice brigadier, dressed as a peasant, should proceed to the place indicated, provided with a revolver and four hundred scudi, and followed at a distance by a patrol of his men. On his arrival he found the chief and lieutenant of the band. 'My master can only send you,' he said, 'this sum at present. Money is not easy to find. In a few days you shall have the rest. In the meantime, for my discharge, count what there is.' While the two robbers were stooping down to comply with the request, the other drew out his pistol and shot them both dead. Their companions, who were posted in a neighboring thicket, seeing them fall, rushed out to take revenge, but the gendarmes also hastened up, and after a short resistance put to flight the malefactors, who left three wounded and two dead on the ground. The non-commissioned officer was mentioned in the order of the day, made a brigadier, and decorated by the Pope with the Grand Medal."

SOME VERY interesting incidents connected with the Paraguayan evacuation of Humaita are contained in a letter to the New York Times. The city is described as entirely in ruins, scarcely a building having escaped the shot and shell of the allies. A few wounded Brazilian prisoners were found who said that they had been tenderly cared for by their enemies. This is a wonderful commentary on the term "barbarian," so often applied to the Paraguayans by nations which often massacre their prisoners of war. On the night of the 1st ult., an attempt was made to recapture the fort, but the allies were too vigilant and their enemies were repulsed with great slaughter. Then did they understand the horrors of the war, for on the stripping of the wounded of their bloody clothing, by the surgeons, many were discovered to be women! They were so well disguised that their sex had not been suspected. A wounded mother held to her breast an infant of a few months, whose little arm had been broken by a bullet. Some children were taken unhurt, and ate ravenously the biscuits that were given them; one little man refused to be comforted until one of the aids had found him a wet nurse, when he subsided into contentment and sleep. The surrender of the Paraguayans then remaining on the Peninsula was brought about by a Spanish priest in the allied army. Taking with him the cross, the symbol of their faith, he visited the Paraguayan camp and besought them to lay down their arms and be spared further suffering. They reluctantly consented, and were taken as prisoners to the dismantled fortress of Humaita, which they had so long and so well defended. As they entered they were received by the Brazilians with a military salute and the officers were told that wherever in the allied countries they might choose to reside, they would find that their heroism was known and appreciated.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Fair and Festival.—A grand Fair and Festival will be held at Lafayette Hall on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 30th, October 1st and 2nd. A brass band in attendance every evening.

Every Republican should be assessed on or before Saturday.

There are at present 440 prisoners in the Western Penitentiary.

The Iron Work on the Panhandle Railroad Bridge over the Monongahelr river is being painted.

St. Clair street suspension bridge still attracts the assiduous attention of gentlemen of the brush and paint pot profession.

Wanted—to Rent or Buy—A house in Allegheny, west of or on Federal street.
tf. Address, R. H., Gazette Office.

Third Ward, Allegheny.—We call the attention of the Third ward, Allegheny, Republicans to an advertisement in to-day's paper under Political head.

Litigation is rather dull these days, judging from the amount of business done at the Aldermen's offices. A long and wearisome trudge among them yesterday secured as but one item.

New Hook and Ladder Company.—Pittsburgh is to have a new Hook and Ladder Company. The new truck for the company now being built in the East is almost ready for shipment and is said to be a handsome affair.

Naturalized.—A squad of men from Johnstown, Cambria county, were naturalized in the Court of Quarter Sessions yesterday. No court being in session in that coonty, they were compelled to come here, which is their nearest place, where the proper court is now sitting.

Allegheny Letter Carriers' Report.—The following is the report of the Allegheny letter carriers for the month of September: Delivered—Mail letters, 31,449; drop letters, 3,266; papers, 16,684; total, 51,399. Collected—Mail letters, 10,747; drop letters, 522; papers, 467; total, 21,473.

Sharpsburg Street Improvements.—Main street, in the borough of Sharpsburg, is being paved according to a new system, partly concrete and partly a new process known only to the inventor. The work is being pushed forward rapidly and will be completed before the close of the season.

Slight Fire.—A slight fire occurred yesterday morning in the rear of Jas. Kinnear's residence, on Fifth avenue, near Pride street. No alarm was raised, and the fire was promptly extinguished by buckets of water thrown upon it, the only loss being the destruction of a small shed used as a lumber room.

Paid the Fine.—We mentioned yesterday that Wm. Clinton, keeper of a saloon in the Diamond, had been arrested for selling liquor on Sunday. Subsequently he had a hearing before Alderman Bailie, which resulted in his being fined fifty dollars and costs, upon the payment of which he was discharged.

Boy Lost.—Yesterday afternoon a little boy named James Gay, aged twelve years, residing at 247 Lacock street, Allegheny, wandered away from his home and has not been heard of since. He wore at the time of his disappearance a gray colored suit, but had no hat on. Any information concerning him will be thankfully received by his parents.

Fire Marshal's Report.—Following is the report of Major G. W. Murphy, Fire Marshal, of Allegheny county, for the month of September: Number of alarms, eight; fires, two; fires of a trifling nature, four; false alarms, two. There were only two alarms in the city, one of which was false. Gross loss, $2,910; insurance, $2,540; loss over insurance, $370.

Another Convention.—There will be another State Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations in our city about the fifteenth of next month. Our home Association is moving in the matter, and will have charge of the affair. Distinguished speakers and workers from all parts of the country will be in attendance, and the affair promises to be even a greater success than the last one held here, about two years since.

Meeting at Courtney's Mills.—A very large and spirited Republican meeting was held last evening at Courtney's Mills, Ohio township. Samuel Courtney, Esq. presided, with a full complement of other officers. Thomas Ewing and R. B. Parkinson, Esqs., addressed the meeting on the issues of the hour in speeches of about an hour's length each, after which the meeting adjourned with cheers for the speakers and the Union Republican nominations.

Monthly Letter Carriers' Rebprt.—The following is the report of the letter carriers in this city: Delivered—Mail letters, 258,011; drop letters, 33,383; papers, 90,784; total, 382,178. Collected—Mail letters, 171,566; drop letters, 19,819; papers, 6,566; total, 198,941. Throughout the business portions of the city there are five deliveries and seven collections each day. The last collection from the street boxes is made after eight o'clock in the evening.

Roberts Robbed.—Joel Roberts, a colored individual, drank an over dose of the "pure stuff," which he obtained at a tavern on Water street, yesterday morning. This piece of indiscretion cost Joel exactly ten dollars. It seems he fell asleep on the wharf, and on awakening found himself in the midst of a pile of freight, which was awaiting shipment. On examining his pockets he discovered the absence of the greenbacks, for which he now bewaileth.

Be Assessed.—It should be remembered that all persons not having paid a State or County tax within two years, and not having been regularly assessed at least ten days prior to the election, will be deprived of exercising the right of suffrage. The Block Committees of ward organizations should see to having every voter in their district assessed. To-morrow is the last day upon which persons can be assessed in order to give them a vote at the State election. Be assessed!

Window Glass Demolished.—A lad named Lynch was arrested yesterday afternoon for throwing a large stone through the window of the new building on the corner of Eighth and Wylie streets. One of the large panes valued at two hundred and fifty dollars was completely demolished by by the stone. Lynch with a number of his companions was playing in the vicinity at the time, and is said to be the one who threw the stone. Owing to to circumstances, it is not likely that the firm will receive any compenstion for the loss.

Trains Delayed.—On Wednesday afternoon a freight train bound eastward on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad jumped the track at Sewickley station, causing a delay of several hours in the running of the regular trains. The Wellsburg accommodation, which left here at 3:30, was delayed six hours, and all the afternoon accommodation trains were delayed from passing Sewickley until after nine o'clock. The obstruction caused considerable inconvenience to persons traveling on the road, especially on the accommodation trains. No person was injured, and the damage to the train was very slight.

COLONIZATION.

How the Deputy Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee was Entrapped.

The Democrats are busily engaged in colonizing in the various uncertain districts of the State, and are spending large sums of money in order to concentrate their votes in particular districts where needed. Yesterday, Mr. John H. Jones, a brave and gallant soldier, in order to develope the plans of the opposition, called on Edward J. Keenan, Deputy Chairman of the State Democratic Committee, and, with a few mysterious hints, made known that his vote was to be sold. The following affidavit made by Mr. Jones, in our presence, last night, fully explains how the opposition propose defeating honest John Covode, in his district. Read the following document, and if you can, discover the honesty of those who conduct the Democratic campaign in this section:

AFFIDAVIT.

"Between nine and ten o'clock this (Thursday) evening, I met E. J. Keenan, at his office door, No. 104 Fifth street. I first stepped up to the door, tapped him on the shoulder, and asked for Mr. Keenan. He replied "what Keenan;" I said Ed Keenan. He then said "that's my name." I made the remark to him that a certain gentleman, leader of the Democratic party in the Twelfth ward, had directed me to come and see him (Keenan) and it would be all right. I said to Keenan that I had got into a little fuss, and wanted to get out of town, and go and vote against "old Alligator," meaning John Covode. He said "that was all right" I went up stairs with Keenan, into his office, and had a conversation. He asked me what I worked at. I told him I could work at carpentering. He said he thought he could get me a job at Irwin's station, and that if I was a bricklayer he could get me a job at Mr. McDermott's, at Irwin's, as they wanted bricklayers there. Keenan then left me and said he would be back in fifteen minutes. He came back, but [said he had not been able to see the man he wanted. He then wanted me to wait until Saturday and go with him to Greensburg, on the Johnstown accommodation. I then said I must get off to-morrow, (Friday.) He then took out a roll of money and gave me a dollar to pay my way out to Greensburg, at the same time directing me to go to Robert Black's hotel, and wait until Saturday, when he would see me there and complete the arrangement. I asked him how they were getting along with their colonization scheme. He said "first-rate; I shipped eighteen men this afternoon." Keenan said that it did not matter whether I worked at all or not, and that it made no difference about Saturday being the last day as they had the thing fixed.

There was a meeting of a Committee in the next room, and there was a conversation about naturalizing foreigners who had been in the country only one, two and three years. I heard the remark made that a man named Given, living on Point street, had gone through the mill yesterday. One said there were a lot of Democratic bricklayers wanted at Irwin's station.

I reside at the corner of Thirteenth and Smallman streets, in the Twelfth ward of this city. If Ed. Keenan will call there he will get his dollar back.

Meeting in the Allegheny Diamond—Speeches by Messrs. Penney and Robb.

Notwithstanding the disagreeableness of the weather last evening, a large and enthusiastic Republican meeting was held in front of the headquarters, on the northeast square of the Allegheny Diamond.

A brass band was in attendance, and at intervals enlivened the occasion with excellent music.

The meeting was called to order at 7½ o'clock by James McBrier, Esq., who announced the following officers:

President—S. W. McGinniss.

Vice Presidents—D. Cornelius, Wm. Park, John S. Slagle.

Secretaries—Reporters of the Republican press.

Hon. J. P. Penney was the first speaker. He dwelt at some length on the record of the Democratic party, showing that while it loudly vaunted itself as the party of the people against the tyranny of aristocracy, it was in practice the greatest system of aristocracy in the land, and to-day while it makes the same boast it yet upholds and seeks to restore to power those who had attempted by force to set up a government in which the masses would be dispossessed of their rights and be governed and controlled bp the few pampered offsprings of one of the vilest systems which ever cursed any nationality. This was no mere assertion. History bore record of the facts in proof of it. At the commencement and during the continuance of the rebellion the men engaged in it boldly proclaimed that their effort was to make themselves the masters and rulers over the lower classes, as they call the sturdy mechanics and workingmen of the country. Yet these are the men whom the Democratic party to-day are seeking to restore at once to complete power. The speaker continued in this manner for some time, making a number of telling hits, and closing amid great applause.

At the conclusion of Mr. Penney's remarks C. W. Robb, Esq., was introduced and entertained the audience for a short time with an able argument on the issues of the day, after which the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the Republican nominees.

The Feast of Tabernacles or Booths.

The Feast of Tabernacles, one of the most important feasts among the Israelites, commenced Wednesday evening, and will continue for nine days. The festival is celebrated in memory of the forty years wandering of the Israelites in the desert, after their sortie of Egypt—Lev. 23:42, 43. The name of this festival is derived from the booths in which the people dwelt during its continuance, which were constructed of the branches and leaves of trees on the roofs of their houses, in the courts, and also in the streets. It was one of three great festivals of the year, at which all the men of Israel were required to be present—Deut. 16:16—and it is also a season of gratitude and thanksgiving for the gathering in of the harvest, also called the Feast of the Harvest—Exodus 23:16, 32, 34. During the continuance of the Feast, which is being very generally observed by the Jewish portion of our citizens, services will be held in the Synagogues.

The Thrugmullians of the old Third ward, both large and small, turned out last evening with torches, to attend a meeting held in the lower part of the city. An observable feature was that each member wore a clean red shirt—the first clean shirt of any description, perhaps, that he had worn for many long years. The boys felt happy in the rare change of apparel, but took the "cholic stoop" in passing the GAZETTE building and uttered painful groans. Our devil took them doses of Dr. Harris' "cramp" cure, which seemed to alleviate their sufferings. We accuse the Board of Health for supplying this crowd with clean shirts, and suggest that they might have postponed their sanitary precautions till after the election.

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

[Before Judge Sterrett.]

Court met at the usual hour Thursday morning.

CASE OF OFFICER WILLIAMS.

The jury in the case of officer John L. Williams, indicted for assault and battery on Mrs. Dake, found a verdict of "not guilty, county to pay costs."

ANOTHER POLICE CASE.

Commonwealth vs. W. E. Hively, of the Mayor's police, and Commonwealth vs. Peter Brown, colored man. These were cross cases, Hively being charged with aggravated assault and battery, and Brown with simple assault and battery. Recently a disturbance occurred on the hill, in the Eighth Ward, in which Brown was concerned, being intoxicated to a considerable degree. He was arrested by policeman Gormly while quarreling with a man named McFadden, and making some resistance was struck on the head with a mace. Hively was called to the assistance of officer Gormly, and it appeared that on the way to the tombs the prisoner, Brown, was repeatedly struck with a handy-billy by Hively. It was contended by Mr. Haines, counsel for the prosecution in the case of Hively, that unnecessary force and violence was used towards Brown, and by the counsel for the prosecution in the case against Brown, that he (Brown) was the party in the wrong—having offered violent resistance—that no more force was used than was necessary, and that Brown was guilty of an assault and battery upon the officer. The evidence indicated that Brown had been severely beaten, and his appearance was such when brought before the Mayor that His Honor (called as a witness) stated his belief that no officer would be justified in inflicting such violence except in self-defence; he stated further that Hively was one of the very best officers on his force. The evidence did not indicate that the prisoner Brown had resisted to such an extent as to justify the beating he had received. Policeman Gormly testified that Brown called Hively a "son of a b——," which (said Gormly) was "pretty hard to take, either from a white or black man." Gormly states further that such was the condition of Brown, together with his resistance, that they could not have taken him to the tombs without using a cart or a handy-billy,—but they did not use a cart, and he did not see Brown struck with a handy-billy. In answer to an inquiry as to what instructions he gave his police, Mayor Blackmore said he repeatedly cautioned them against using violence to prisoners—sometimes they were obliged to be severe, when violently assailed, or in preventing their clothing from being torn. Such, he said, had been the custom with the police of the city.

Mr. Haines said that under the evidence in the case, if Hively was "one of the very best" of Mayor Blackmore's police, he (the Mayor) had better discharge all his force and employ better men. Hively was characterized as humane, as treating kindly prisoners under his charge. Yet it appeared that, although a conservator of the peace—employed and paid to preserve order—he lost his temper, and repeatedly struck Brown over the head with a handy-billy, because he had been called a bad name, thus breaking the peace himself. Words would not justify a battery by one not clothed with authority as an officer, much less would an officer be excusable in acting as Hively had. Under all the evidence, Mr. Haines contended, it could not be denied that Brown had been brutally and unwarrantably beaten by Hively. There was no question as to the lawfulness of the arrest.

The jury evidently had some difficulty in coming to a conclusion, and were out a considerable time. In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Hively they acquitted and directed the prosecutor, Brown, to pay the costs. In the case of Brown they also acquitted, and directed that the prosecutor, (Hively,) and defendant each pay one-half the costs.

A CUTTING CASE.

Henry Price was next placed on trial for felonious assault and battery, committed upon the person of William Soles on the evening of the first of September. The parties reside in Versailles township, near McKeesport, had a difficulty and were bad friends. They met on the evening stated at the house of James Crawford, and after some words the defendant stabbed the prosecutor in the left side, between the seventh and eighth ribs, inflicting a wound of some two inches in extent, and penetrating the chest, without, however, injuring the lung. At the time, or immediately preceding the cutting, the testimony showed that Soles was violent in his manner, and threatened that he would have "Price's heart's blood that night." Hearing this threat, Crawford approached Soles and endeavored to persuade him to go home, and while conversing with him it appeared Price passed in the rear of them and inflicted the stab, Soles immediately calling out "Crawford, I'm a dead man." The defense did not deny the cutting, but endeavored to show that the cutting was done in self defense, or at least under great provocation. Jury out.

ROSS TOWNSHIP HOMICIDE.

The Grand Jury having ignored the bill in the case of the boy Henry Teese, indicted for the murder of Ross, in Robinson township, on the 2d ult., the prisoner was brought into court and discharged by proclamation. The Grand Jury, after a full investigation of the case, come to the conclusion which prevailed at the time of the occurrence, viz.: that the killing of Ross was in self defense. The circumstances are fresh in the minds of our readers.

Trial List.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1868.

Com. vs. Wm. Arnold, (two cases.)
Com. vs. Daniel Curtin.
Com. vs. Frank Deary.
Com. vs. Miranda Palmer, (two cases.)
Com. vs. John Ryan.
Com. vs. James Hardy.
Com. vs. Frank Williams.
Com. vs. Peter McFarland.

Home Again.

Alderman Samuel McMasters, of the old Third ward, has returned from his recent visit among his friends in Canada, and has resumed the duties of his office. Mr. McMaster is justly regarded as one of our first municipal magistrates, being thoroughly acquainted with the laws of the State and country, and ever disposed to dispense justice without fear or favor. His administration has thus far proven a grand success, and the large measure of respect and confidence of his fellow citizens which he enjoys must fully assure him that his efforts to properly discharge the duties of his office are fully appreciated by the community at large.

Fires of the Month.

The following is the report of the Superintendent of the Fire Alarm for the month of September. During the month there were four alarms and fires, for which thirty blows were struck on the central bell. In striking the hours two hundred and forty blows were struck, making a total for the month of two hundred and seventy blows. The largest fire of the month was that by which the office of the Messrs Mellon Bros., in the Twenty-first ward, was destroyed.

During the time embraced in the report, thirteen police messages have been sent and received, and one little girl, who was lost, was returned to her home.

Locomotive Blown Up—Three Persons Killed.

By telegraphic dispatch from Youngstown, Ohio, we learn that a freight engine on the Lawrence Railroad near that place, blew up yesterday morning, killing the engineer, fireman and brakesman. We are without further particulars.

Suffered For His "Confidence."

Samuel Sawyer has great confidence in human nature. This is not asserted because Samuel says so, but because Samuel's acts prove it. One of his acts in support of this declaration came to our knowledge yesterday, and impressed us with a profound respect for the gentleman's character. As related by him, the case stands as follows: He was in the depot at Cincinnati on Tuesday evening, waiting for the train to come along to convey him to Pittsburgh, on his way through to New York. While waiting there he by some means made the acquaintance of a very interesting family, consisting of a husband, wife, and a fair-haired little girl of some ten summers. His new found acquaintances were very affable and soon began to be communicative. Samuel discovered after a time that they were in trouble—lived in Pittsburgh—were far away from home and friends—anxious to get back—short of money—no friends in Cincinnati—hosts of them, rivals to Rothschilds, in Pittsburgh—if they could only borrow money enough to put them through, would be all right when at home—only needed small sum, eight dollars and a half. Such was the gist of the mournful tale to which Samuel listened. What could he, what could any benevolent Philadelphia man do but open his pocket-book and relieve his friends from trouble? He did so and received profuse gratitude, and many promises to have it made all right before leaving the Union Depot in Pittsburgh. The whole party then embarked for the City of Smoke, and arrived here the next day about noon, coming by-way of the PanHandle Railroad. When the train reached the corner of Second and Try streets it stopped a few minutes and the male part of the interesting family got off, leaving the two females to proceed with their obliging friend to the Depot and wait for him while he ran up and procured the money from one of his Rothschilds friends. Arrived at the depot Samuel and the females waited ten minutes patiently, ten more, a little restless, twenty more, getting tired, thirty more, positively impatient; at this juncture the fair haired female showed signs of restlessness, and the mother excused herself saying she would take the child around on Penn street and leave it at a friends' and return in a few minutes, when doubtless her husband would be back also. Samuel said he would wait, and he kept his promise, more than a few minutes. Two o'clock came, still he waited, three o'clock came, he was still at his post; four o'clock found Samuel still at the Depot, but half past four witnessed the exhaustion of his patience. The train would be along in a few minutes, and he must move on. Thinking his friend was perhaps detained, he left his address in the following touching letter with the ticket agent, at the depot office, which is certainly plain enough and ought to answer the purpose:

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29, 1868.

I have waited here almost an hour. Your wife said you would be here in twenty minutes. I have too much business on hand to wait longer. I am a poor man like yourself, and I hope you will not fail to send me the eight dollars and a half I let you have to get your ticket with from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh. Do not disappoint me, as I tried to befriend you, but send the money to me the next mail, care Rev. Dr. Kendall, 150 Nassau street, New York.

SAMUEL SAWYER.

We are afraid if Samuel waits on that money to pay his board bill, his landlady will be rather impatient.

Quarterly Report of the Board of Local Inspectors.

In the United States District Court yesterday, Judge McCandless presiding, the Local Inspectors of this port submitted their report for the quarter ending September 30th, as follows:

We have the honor herewith to present our report for the quarter ending September 30th. We have inspected twenty steamers of all classes, having a total tonnage of 3,442.53 tons, as follows:

CLASS.	NO.	TONNAGE.
Passenger	5	1,475.88
Towing	9	1,590.15
Ferry	4	320.90
Freight	2	54.60
Totals	20	3,441.53

We have issued licenses to thirty-three engineers and thirty-nine pilots; refused licenses to one engineer, and also refused to raise the grade of one second engineer. We have suspended the licenses of two pilots; have investigated three cases of collision—two between the steamers Elector and Franklin, and one between the Arab and Ingomar—suspending the pilots of the Franklin and Ingomar.

The steam stug Gen. Larimer burst a steam pipe while lying at the Monongahela wharf. The engineer was slightly scalded. No other damage was done.

The Inspectors then state that on the 22d of August they were called upon to witness and assist in testing a boiler made at the boiler yards of Carroll & Snyder, of homogeneous plate of steel, manufactured at Messrs. Park Bros, & Co., Black Diamond Steel Works. After giving in detail the various tests to which the boiler was subjected, which we have already published, they state: "On the sixteenth of September another test was made, and this time we succeeded in bursting the boiler at a pressure of 780 pounds, one of the seams giving way. One remarkable thing was observed. The rivets were torn away or cut off, as with a pair of shears, while the plates showed no signs of breaking. The rivet holes were not drawn or elongated in the least, showing that the rivets were weaker than the punched plates."

"It is with great pleasure that we report to your Honor that the managers of the rival lines of steamers on the Monongahela river have concluded an arrangement of consolidation, by forming one company that will transact the business of carrying freight and passengers hereafter. Thus the racing and rivalry heretofore existing between these lines is ended, much to the satisfaction of the business and travelling community. This rivalry has been going on for over two years, and until your Honor brought the matter before the Grand jury. Since that time the arrangement as stated has been effected."

A Rare Chance for Investment.

The Hollen Knitting Machine, an ingenious invention whereby a stocking, leg, heel, toe and all is completed inside of five minutes, is now on exhibition at the office of Straw & Morton, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets. This piece of mechanism has attracted wide attention throughout the city, and our most eminent mechanics have decided in the most favorable terms on its superior merits over all other machines yet produced in the knitting line. A child, ten years of age, can be taught in half an hour to successfully operate and to make twelve pairs of stockings, entirely finished and perfect, every two hours. A number of capitalists, anxious that Pittsburgh should exclusively hold this great patent, have formed a stock company, with a capital of $25,000, and nearly all of the shares ($1,000 each with easy payments), have been subscribed. It is supposed that the original investment of the stockholders will be returned one month after the Company goes into operation, as the demand for the machine will be great and the profits on its sale will be very large. Those desiring to make a pecuniary investment which will pay ten or a hundred fold should call and see this great machine in operation. It accomplishes more than any other knitting machine in the country can do, and is simple in construction, durable and easily operated. Doubtless the stock will be all taken today and to-morrow as the better portion has already been subscribed.

Incendiarism.

Yesterday morning, about four o'clock, flames were discovered issuing from the carpenter shop of V. G. Elliott, located on Fourth avenue, between Grant and Ross streets. An alarm was struck from box 25, which brought the departments in full force promptly on the ground. Their services, however, were not required as the flames were extinguished previous to their arrival by the watchman on the beat, assisted by a resident of the vicinity. The damage was very slight, the fire having gained but little headway. A subsequent examination of the premises revealed sufficient evidence to fully satisfy those present that the fire was the work of an incendiary. A pane of glass had been broken, and a lighted match thrown in among the shavings, causing them to ignite. This is the second time the same shop has been fired, the first attempt resulting in its destruction, and at that time the fire was supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The second attempt would have been as successful, but was fortunately discovered in time, and a large amount of property thus saved. If the individual who is guilty of criminality in the matter can be secured, he should receive a punishment which would prevent all future operations of the kind on his part.

Boy Run Over.

Another serious accident, the result of reckless driving, occurred in Allegheny yesterday, the victim being a little boy named Talbert, aged twelve years, who resides with his parents in the Third ward. It appears that the little fellow was returning from school, and attempted to cross Ohio street, near the Middle. Just at this time a wagon driven by a man old enough to have known better came dashing along at a furious rate, and before the lad could get out of the way he was knocked down by the vehicle and run over, sustaining very severe injuries. He was picked up and taken to his home when Dr. Crouse was summoned. Upon examination it was found that the little fellow had been injured internally and the right foot so badly crushed and lacerated that amputation will probably be necessary to save his life.

The driver of the wagon, without checking his speed, drove on as unconcerned as if nothing at all had happened and he was out for a pleasure ride. There is no remedy to put a stop to this criminal practice but to promptly arrest such characters and punish them with the severest penalties of the law.

Alleged Larceny as Bailee.

Abel Cohen made information yesterday before Alderman Humbert against H. Snitzer, for larceny as bailee. The circumstances of the case, according to the information, are as follows: A short time ago Cohen was arrested and placed in jail for trial for some offense against the laws. His wife wishing to procure counsel for him and not having the money to do so, borrowed seventy dollars of Snitzer, giving as security for the loan a massive gold chain valued at one hundred and forty dollars and a ring of the same material worth forty dollars. Subsequently he was released, and procuring the money gave it to his wife to redeem the jewelry. Upon demanding it however, she was refused, Snitzer, as she alleges, stating that unless he received forty dollars as a bonus for the loan of the money he would retain possession of the articles. It is said he had previously been offered ten dollars, but this amount apparently failed to satisfy this modern Shylock. Finding everything else in vain, Cohen finally concluded to seek redress by law, and hence the information upon which the accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

When the PLANTATION BITTERS were first made known to the American people some seven years ago, it was supposed they were an entirely new thing, and had never before been used. So far as their general use in the United States is concerned, this may be true. It is also true that the same Bitters were made and sold in the Island of St. Thomas, over forty years ago, as any old planter, merchant or sea captain doing business in the West Indies will tell you. It is distinctly within my recollection that on the return of my father (who was a sea captain, and doing an extensive trade in the tropics,) he would invariably have the Bitters among the ship's stores, and our family sideboard was nevar without them. For any sickness, it matters not how severe or trifling, the decanter of these Bitters, by a different name, was always resorted to as a sovereign remedy.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T:F.
